Daniel O'Connell

WHAT THE GREAT IRISHMAN SAID ABOUT FREEDOM AND SLAVERY

We have handed us by an Irishman who by the way with many others intends to vote the Union Republican ticket the following eloquent extracts from the speeches of the great orator Daniel O'Connell The first is from a speech delivered in Glasgow in September, 1836 He said

The Americans in their conduct towards the slaves were traitors to the cause of human liberty foul detractors of the Democratic principle which he had cherished through out his political life and blasphemers of that great and sacred name which they pretend to recognize For in their solemn league and covenant the Declaration of American Independence they declared that all men (he used their own words) have certain inalienable rights those they defined to be life liberty and the pursuit of happiness To maintain these they pledge themselves with all the solemnity of an oath in the presence of Almighty God The aid which they had invoked from Heaven had been awarded to them but they had violated their lawfully solemn compact with the Deity and set at nought every principle which they professed to hold sacred by keeping two and a half millions of their fellow men in bondage In reprobation of that disgraceful conduct his humble voice had been heard across the wide waves of the Atlantic Like the thunder storm in its strength it had careered against the breeze armed with the lightning of Christian truth [Great cheering] And let them seek to repress it as they may let them murder and assassinate in the true spirit of lynch law the storm would wax louder and louder around them till the claims of justice became too strong to be withstood and the black man would stand up too big for his chains It seemed indeed he hoped what he was about to say was not profanation as if the curse of the Almighty had already overtaken them For the first time in their political history disgraceful tumult and anarchy had been witnessed in their cities Blood has been shed without the sanction of law and even Sir Robert Peel had been enabled to taunt the Americans with gross inconsistency and lawless proceedings He differed from Sir Robert Peel on many points On one point however he fully agreed with him Let the proud Americans learn that all parties in this country unite in condemnation of their present conduct and let them also learn that the worst of all aristocracies is that which prevails in America an aristocracy which had been aptly denominated that of the human skin The most insufferable pride was that shown by such an aristocracy

He would continue to hurl his taunts across the Atlantic Those would ascend the Mississippi, they would descend the Missouri and be heard along the banks of the Ohio and the Monongahela, till the black man would leap delighted to express his gratitude to those who had effected his emancipation (Cheers) And oh, but perhaps it was his pride that dictated the hope that some black O'Connell might arise among his fellow-slaves (tremendous cheers) who would cry agitate agitate agitate (renewed cheering) till the two millions and a half of his fellow-sufferers learned the secret of their strength—learned that they were two millions and a half (Enthusiastic cheers) If there was one thing which more than another could excite his hatred, it was the laws which the Americans had framed to prevent the instruction of their slaves To teach a slave to read was made a capital offense (Shame) To be seen in company with a negro who could write was visited with imprisonment (shame) and to teach a slave the principles of freedom was punished with death Were they not laws made by wolves of the forest No they were made by a congregation of two legged wolves American wolves monsters in human shape who boast of their liberty and their humanity, while they carry the hearts of tigers within them (Cheers) With regard to the attacks which had been made upon his countrymen by such men, he rejoiced at them (Cheers) These proved to him that the sufferings to which they had been subjected in the land of their birth, had not been lost upon them but that their kindly affections had been nurtured into strength and that they had ranged themselves on the side of the oppressed slave (Cheers)

The next is from a report of a speech he made in Parliament in 1837

Mr O'Connell thought that humanity was indebted to the Hon member for bringing this question before the House It was only by the expression of public opinion that we could hope to check the progress of one of the most horrible evils the human mind could contemplate viz the formation of eight or nine additional slave holding States The revolt of Texas was founded on nothing else but the abolition of slavery by the Mexican Government In 1824 the Mexican Government had pronounced that no person after that period should be born a slave In 1829 they went further and abolished slavery and immediately followed the revolt of the land holders who had settled themselves in Texas Who could contemplate without horror the calculation, as in the case of stocking a farm what was the necessary complements of men and women and when they would be ready in lupe for the market? It was a blot which no other country but America had ever yet suffered to stain its history—no nation on the face of the earth had ever yet been degraded by such crimes except the high spirited North American Republic Talk of the progress of Democratic principle! No man admired it more than he did What became of it when its principal advocates could not be persuaded to abstain from such species of traffic as this? Texas had speculated on it

The last extract we make is from a speech made in Exeter Hall November 23d 1867

It is not the slave alone who suffers but the man who supports and abets the system There may be physical degradation to the slave but there is moral degradation burnt in with iron into the soul of the planter (Cheers) He ceases to be a man when he claims to be the master of his fellow man I care not into what clime or country this inhumanity exists I hate it in all countries in the serfs of Russia in the Poles under the [illegible] of a ruthless miscreant tyrant [illegible] and in the slavery of the unfortunate men of color under the pretended friends of liberty in the United States (Cheers) Behold these pretended sons of freedom those who declared that all persons were equal in the presence of God that every man had an inalienable right to liberty—and proclaiming it too in the name of God behold them asseverating it in the name of honor their paltry honor (Loud cheers) They are at this moment organizing new slave States Remember that another country has been committed to slaveholders They have seized upon the territory of Texas taking it from the Mexicans, the Mexicans having abolished slavery without apprenticeship (Loud cheers) Remember that they have stolen cheated swindled robbed a country for the horrid purpose of continuing it in slavery (Hear hear and cries of shame) Remember that there is a treaty now in fact in contemplation at least and only postponed between the President of the United States and those cruel ruffians till this robbery of Texas from Mexico can be completed Oh raise the voice of humanity against republicans who have sentiments of pride and feelings of self exaltation (Cheers) Let us tell these republicans that instead of standing the highest in the scale of humanity they are the basest of the base, and the vilest of the vile

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY

From the Olympia Transcript

From a gentleman just up from Chehalis Point we learn that one company at least is making money mining Five men worked five days and cleaned up a little more than one hundred dollars at $16 per ounce of dust One of the party took the dust to P[illegible] and had it assayed and reported the assay at $17 per ounce At this rate the men made nearly five dollars per day to the man They work with sluices raising the water with a hydraulic There is no reasonable doubt but that there are good mines in the adjacent mountains from which is obtained the fine washed gold of the bluff or came from some rich deposit Success to the discovery

The old saw mill at Tumwater was shut down last night for a finale It will be removed with all possible haste to give place to the new one which is already to put up Messrs Ward Mitchell & Cooper merit a liberal patronage as they are liberal in improvements

The steamer Fly Capt Frame has been here for a month past waiting for a load of cattle from Oregon for Burrard's Inlet On Wednesday evening a miscellaneous drove of over one hundred and thirty head arrived, and on Thursday morning the Fly took on board a full load—about one hundred head—and departed These cattle were purchased near Roseburg, Umpqua Valley and are pronounced by stockmen as a fine herd of cattle They will be used or butchered at the mills at the above Inlet having been purchased especially for that purpose

Parties who claim to know and who we believe do know assure us that with a very small expense not more than $2 000 or $3 000 a ditch could be cut turning Black lake into a small stream which puts into Budd's Inlet, opposite Olympia which would if done make one of the finest powers in the world From where the water would pour over the hill into the creek to tide water is about a mile and a half, and more than 700 feet of fall, admitting of a series of manufacturing establishments that entire distance the only requisite being the carrying of water along the side of the hill and letting it fall at such points as would be desirable This water power together with the Tumwater privilege, would give this immediate vicinity more and better manufacturing power than any one place yet known in the civilized world

Cause of the Abyssinian War

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune accompanying the British expedition, writes as follows

THE CAUSE OF THE WAR

No American I presume will deny that it was incumbent on the British Government to send a force to relieve its incarcerated Envoy in Abyssinia not only to sustain the dignity and honor of a great Empire but for the sake of Christianity as several of its ministers were kept in chains by a barbarous king Though Theodore is called a barbarous tyrant for thus maltreating foreign agents, there are many reasons for justification of the conduct of a barbarian king placed in such strait as he was Not many years before he had sallied forth from the mountainous districts of Kuarha with legions as eager as himself for conquest and made head against his father-in-law As this vision of glory and conquest was realized thoughts of universal reformation of his distracted country flashed across his mind He resolved upon uniting the petty provinces whose chiefs were perpetually at war with each other and harassed by the ferocious Gallas who like the predatory Comanches tortured and slaughtered wherever they went

KING THEODORE'S AMBITION

Those who knew Theodore six years ago say that he was a generous and princely person kind and affable to his subjects of undisputed courage and having an ardent wish of benefitting his country by every means For two years there was peace throughout all Ethiopia and wonderful advances were made by the natives in the modern arts Artisans had been invited from Europe at liberal wages to teach his subjects European manufactures manufactories for gunpowder and iron foundries had been erected Looms for the manufacture of cloth were also imported and schools and churches were also established in several of the largest cities Suddenly the King's temper changed He thought he perceived in the crowd of agents sent by the English Government some sinister design Cameron the Consul an intriguing man, was a special object of espionage on the part of the King's spies until finally orders were given for his seizure and imprisonment

HOW HIS SCHEMES OF AGGRANDIZEMENT WERE THWARTED

King Theodore's schemes of aggrandizement received a check from the date of his imprisonment of the English Consul the travelers and the missionaries who were in Abyssinia His darling ideas of Christianizing Egypt seem destined never to reach their fulfillment and the prophecy respecting his liberation of Palestine from the hands of the Moslems can never be verified His most cherished aspirations have been frustrated on account of the expedition now in Abyssinia The English ministers have been much to blame that they did not send a reply to Theodore's letter asking for explanation and demanding some sort of guarantee that they would not disturb his country His demand though certainly extraordinary, they would not answer and the prisoners were allowed to languish in captivity subjected to the annoyances which a jealous monarch could inflict The English Government then set about organizing an expedition to release the prisoners by force which the Abyssinian monarch according to all accounts is well prepared to meet though at a time when every province in his vast empire is up in arms against him The king is harrassed and annoyed on all sides which has changed him from the kind and affable prince to a tyrant who invents the most horrible torture to punish his rebellious subjects In spite of the dangers and wars by which he is surrounded, with his country misruled by a force superior to his own armed with the best weapons of war the Emperor confronts them all with a courage which is really praiseworthy Since he first received the proclamations of war sent by the English Government Theodorus has swept with his army from the plateaus of Woggara on the extreme west through the mountainous districts of Lasta and Samen which bound his country on the north to Woggarat on the west and through the wild country of the Gallas on the south conquering and subduing as he went until now he has chosen his position and is prepared to meet the boastful English as he calls them

Before this present expedition had been organized many members of the House of Lords wish to meet Theodore's demands in a proper spirit partly convinced that the prisoners could be released without resorting to force but their objections were overruled by the reports of Russian progress in India and the influence such progress might have upon the natives It is a well known fact that any subject touching the English possessions in India is a very delicate one with the English and the mischief done to their prestige by leaving the travellers Stoddart and Connolly to their fate in the dungeons of Codhara and the cause of the Bhootan war were subjects brought to influence those peers who were still hary of plumping into war for the release of a few Englishmen

Such is a brief history of the causes of the war in Abyssinia

SOUTHERN OREGON.

[From the Sentinel.]

We learn that new diggings have been struck between Rogue River and Galice Creek that prospect well and have created some excitement in Josephine county

The claims in and about Sterling are still panning out well We hear of a number of claims paying an ounce a day to the hand.

Last Monday two squaws were going up Jackson Creek laughing and talking together, when one turned to the other and fiercely told her that she owed her an old grudge of a years' standing, and immediately struck a knife into her right shoulder The wound inflicted was [illegible] at two inches deep and penetrated the lung The [illegible] was dressed by Dr Grube and the patient at last accounts was recovering.

A vein of decomposed quartz running [illegible] Kanaka Flat, has been struck and this [illegible] is being prospected with a view of quarrying rock to be milled From present indications the lead will pay as fully as well as the timber gulch [illegible] The vein of quartz is between three and four feet.

We have been permitted to see a private letter from Capt Sprague, written from [illegible] May 16th, in which it says that a man [illegible] Hornbeckle was killed by a Modoc Indian, about seven miles from that place on the 13th inst. We hope to hear the particulars next week

We were up at the Occidental mill this week, and found everybody busy Col. Drew has been running night and day for about thirty [illegible] The quartz being crushed is from [illegible] lead, and has the appearance of being very rich. The last run paid ten dollars to the ton, and it is confidently expected that it will run over this amount this time. The mill is in [illegible] running order and when small amalgamating pans shall have been added, it will be the best gold mill in either California or Oregon.

EASTERN OREGON.

[From the La G[illegible]]

On the 10th inst., one Mr. Eaton, who [illegible] near Summerville, in this county, was [illegible] on the stage road and main thoroughfare [illegible] county, in open day light. The [illegible] related to us are substantially these: Mr. Eaton had been in the upper country engaged in [illegible] ing and having sold his team, was on his way home When near Baker City, very near the ground of the daring stage robbery two [illegible] ago, he met some Chinamen with a drove of hogs. A little further on he saw a man sitting by the road side, whom he at first took to be a Chinaman He reined his horse up to him for the purpose of speaking to him when the man rose to his feet, pointed a double barreled shot-gun at him, and at the same time two confederates [illegible] had been concealed and, of course, Mr. Eaton had no alternative but to accede to their demands. One version of the story says he was forced to alight, and another that he was robbed without getting down from his horse They took from him 21 ounces of dust and $1,330 in [illegible] He then started to go back the way he came, but the robbers obliged him to continue the [illegible] he had been traveling All three of the men were painted and otherwise disguised Two of them are quite tall Mr. E. thinks he would be able to identify them.

We understand that by change of [illegible] the Congressional candidates do not visit Canyon City, but return below by the [illegible] that they [illegible]

From all quarters cheering [illegible] of the prospect on Monday week. Every [illegible] Logan goes he is making friends and votes for our righteous cause This county will [illegible] nobly up to the work.

Resolutions Adopted by the National German Turners, at Boston.

BOSTON, May 7—The National Convention of German Turners adopted a series of resolutions upon national affairs, supporting the Monroe doctrine as applied to naturalized citizens in foreign countries, advocating a common [illegible] throughout the South, [illegible] the [illegible] measures of Congress, and urging the payment of the national debt in accordance with promises already made by the Government [illegible] that the payment of the debt shall be gradual [illegible] guard against high tariffs and excessive taxation and that there be a gradual consolidation of the different loans into one, with [illegible] of interest

They oppose any payment for [illegible] slaves or debts of the Southern Confederacy.

The next convention meets at [illegible] hence

BAD EXAMPLE—Since Gov Haight and Hop Kee sat down to the [illegible] at the Lick House, and made a square meal off swallows nests and bull-terrier [illegible] the Democracy have been hungry for Chinese dinners A restaurant on the Mongolian plan has been opened on Commercial [illegible] San Francisco, where shark fins and [illegible] custard are served up in the genuine Chinese style It is said that Sam Axtell, the redoubtable, stands across the [illegible] down the names of all the Democrats [illegible] the door to report them at the [illegible] Club —Nevada Gazette.

ON MARRYING—The Home Journal [illegible] is deemed good authority in [illegible] circles, gives a few rules for [illegible] 1st, she should be well bred, [illegible] extraction 2d, she should be at [illegible] younger than her husband; 3d, she should not be selected because she has money, though a suitable woman with money has an additional charm, 4th, very old men should not marry at all, but if they will marry, they may as well marry their housekeepers, if they can get along with her connections.

Some brilliant English [illegible] had their powder wet by rain, and dried it by putting it in the kitchen oven, sitting meanwhile in the room drinking ale It exploded, of course two of them were killed, and the other severely injured A man of [illegible] on this side of the Atlantic undertook to grind some coarse powder in a coffee-mill with a similar result

Opposition the Only Principle

The National Union Republican Convention held at Chicago last week reaffirmed the principles laid down in the Declaration of Independence, declaring them the only true foundation of Democratic Government. This gives great offence to the wiseacre of the Herald, who publishes an article denouncing the Convention for affirming these odious "nigger equality" doctrines! It will be remembered that the National Republican Convention held at Chicago just eight years before, in the second resolution of its platform, specifically affirmed the same insane, heretical doctrines, and now the party, by doing the very thing over again, gives fresh proof of the dangerousness of its principles and objects. It is clear that if things go on at this rate and the course of the "radical revolutionists" is not checked, the country will go at once to the demnition bow-wows. To think that a party will continue to reaffirm the incendiary and dangerous principles of the Declaration of Independence, instead of renewing its unswerving fidelity to the time honored principles of '98, is enough to fill every "Democratic" breast with patriotic concern and even with dismay. It is evident that if the Union party should adopt the Ten Commandments one by one, as a portion of its platform, and declare its belief in the principles set forth in the Sermon on the Mount, the Democracy would vehemently attack these doctrines as meaning nothing but "nigger equality," and that Beriah would write a ponderous leader attacking such a black abolition, miscegenation party. Opposition and retrogression are their only principles of action. They would rail at the Decalogue and the Declaration of Independence with equal unction. The leader of Israel and the fathers of the Republic would alike, in their estimation, be "radical revolutionists."

Ugly Facts

We have shown by the clearest proofs, and the people would remember it without any proof at all, that the so-called Democratic party, threatened, commenced and carried on the war of the rebellion.

The people also remember that the leaders of the Democratic party were the leaders of the rebellion.

They further remember that the Democratic party opposed every measure of the Government for the suppression of the rebellion.

They remember too, that the Democratic party gave encouragement to rebels in arms, and in many instances direct aid and comfort to traitors in armed rebellion.

Nor have they forgotten that the Democratic party traduced and vilified our brave soldiers who were fighting in the field to suppress the rebellion.

Furthermore, the people are aware that the Democratic party is now opposing every measure which is calculated to restore peace and harmony, and give security to the nation.

Nor can the people be blinded to the fact that the Democratic party are responsible for high taxes, high prices, derangement of business, etc., which are the legitimate fruits of the war.

There are multitudes of ugly facts like these which the people still remember and will never forget.

General Hancock and Secretary Stanton

Some mischievous enemy of the "second Washington" has dug up from the ashes of the not distant past a glowing eulogy on Secretary Stanton, delivered by General Hancock, whose name is mentioned in Democratic circles for the Presidency. The New York Herald of December 23d, 1865, contained a report of a speech by Hancock at a New England dinner the day previous, from which the following extract is made:

Much credit has been given the army and praises without stint have been accorded by a grateful people to its Generals. We have had many Generals, among whom the honors have been divided and whose fame will live in more enduring form than in wreaths of laurel; but during the period of our greatest perils, we have had but one Minister of War, and during his administration substantial victories crowned our arms. One who has been unequalled in furnishing the means of war and placing them in the hands of our Generals; one who rivalled Carnot in all that is accorded to him for preparation; one who never faltered however dark the hour. And shall we not honor him? I know him to be generous and mindful of faithful service. Among the people I predict an increasing tide of popularity in his favor, and that he will be one of those whom the country will delight to honor—Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War. A model for a War Minister, in momentous times wise, firm, fruitful of resources, patriotic, incorruptible. To him a nation's gratitude is due.

We are informed by a gentleman who was at Aurora the other night that Dr. Ellis of this city, who was there at the time, assured the people of that place that Multnomah county had been canvassed to a vote, and that it would be certain to give Smith from 200 to 300 majority; that not less than that number of Republicans had changed within the last few days, etc., etc. We publish this, not as a statement which it is worth while to deny here, but to show the course which the Democrats are pursuing in the canvass. All well informed people in Portland know that Logan has been gaining votes constantly in Multnomah county ever since the canvass commenced, and that not one Republican can be named who changed in favor of Smith.

Forward!

Is there a voter in Oregon who supported the Government during the great war who can now so far ignore the past as to cast a ballot which will be construed a rebel indorsement? A Democratic triumph would be claimed by every man in that party as an express declaration in favor of the position they have held during the last eight years. Let this be prevented. Let every man do his duty, and the Union victory is sure.

The Present Danger

The last number of the Oregon Herald presents some choice sugar plums for Democratic lips. We give a sample:

A Northern Democrat warns the people of the South that they must not believe for a moment that the sentiments proclaimed by the New York Day Book or the La Crosse Democrat, are the sentiments of the united Democratic party of the North. The two papers here named equal in circulation nearly all the other Democratic papers in the United States. And it is further more [illegible] the Democratic papers of the North [illegible] the New York World. We have [illegible] the World's [illegible] correspondent was in Line In a war either as a contract [illegible]. He [illegible] the stains of the [illegible] of men who fought for liberty, and he wants to see the Democratic party planted upon the basis of the Abolition war, but that he will never see.

[illegible]

The words italicised and all really [illegible] to truth. There can be no question but a majority of the Democratic party is actuated by the ideas and purposes set forth in their most widely circulated journals. These ideas and purposes are at eternal enmity with the principles and results of the war for the Union. Hence it is that a Democratic victory would be fraught with the most alarming danger to the country. This party is reactionary and vindictive, and if it should obtain power it would not, unless its efforts could be counteracted, stop short of the extreme and revolutionary action which its leading mouth pieces are constantly calling for. The immense majority of the party by the use of the despotism which is so potent in that organization would bring the small faction composed of timid ones up to the support of any measure however extreme, and the country would be convulsed in the most terrible manner by a faction who hate the late war as they do the devil, and who are determined never to recognize the justness of either its principles or results.

Are Union men who are proud of the glories and achievements of the great struggle willing to see all they have gained put in jeopardy by this reactionary faction? Is not this truth as clear as a sunbeam, that the only way to insure peace and safety to the country is to maintain the results of the war which the Democratic party boldly proclaim their intention to reverse and undo? Let it be remembered that they have striven to prevent the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution which would secure these results beyond danger or question. They will not agree except in such a manner as will leave them at liberty to recall their assent, that there shall be no recognition of rebel debts, war losses and compensation for slaves. They resisted every measure by which the great results of the war were achieved, and now they announce their uncompromising and eternal hostility to these results and their purpose to undo them.

Union men of Oregon! would you have this peril averted? Do your share then to avert it by keeping your State right in June!

The Democrats of Columbia county despairing of success by legitimate means, have got out a lot of tickets closely imitating the "People's Ticket" of the county, but with the name of A. H. Sale for Sheriff instead of that of J. H. Swager. We are requested to mention this as a matter of interest to Columbia county.

The Union party has never taken the ground that Congress has the power to regulate the suffrage in the loyal States, and therefore the Chicago platform declares that "the question of suffrage in all loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States."

Rev. Joseph Smith's admirers say that he is a "self made man." We should think so. Nature would never have made such a crooked stick or perverted machine. As Hamlet said of the actor, he was evidently made by one of nature's journeymen who had not made him well.

MATTERS EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.—The Blue Mountain Times represents the crop prospects in Grand Ronde valley as not very flattering. The same paper says:

"We learn by private letters that the crickets are devouring gardens and every green thing on Burnt river. At some ranches they are replanting in hope the blight has passed."—The Umatilla Press tells a story about the finding of a nugget of gold near Susanville, which weighed thirty ounces and two dollars. It was taken out of the North Fork of John Day's river by Messrs. Tidwell & Moore. The Press is evidently trying to get up a stampede to the North Fork, for in another place it says: "Messrs. Newlan & Moffatt, whose claims are situated near Susanville, John Day river, are paying ten dollars a day for hired help in the diggings." This is unblushingly, all a humbug, as no such wages have been paid for years in those mines. The most probable supposition is that there is a colonization scheme at the bottom, having for its object to entice miners from adjoining counties into the North Fork mines to vote the Democratic ticket. Noticing since, the Press announced that a new survey of the county boundary between Umatilla and Grant had determined these mines to be in Umatilla. It is evident that the People's ticket has given the Democracy such a scare in Umatilla that it is deemed necessary to resort to colonization, and hence this sensation expedient.—The Grand Ronde Sentinel says: "Mr. Deal and other freighters, who have for a long time submitted to the exactions of Idaho laws in the way of taxes on property temporarily in the Territory, have determined to bring the right to a test this season." The Walla Walla Statesman represents the feeling among the people of that valley as becoming quite unanimous in favor of the proposed railroad from Walla Walla to Wallula. Large meetings have recently been held in various parts of the country. The reception of Gov. Moore at Walla Walla was enthusiastic. The Statesman says: "In the course of the afternoon he was waited upon by the members of the City Council and representatives of all classes, for all of whom he had a kindly word. In the evening a salute was fired in his honor, when he appeared on the balcony of the Oriental Hotel, and returned thanks for the kind and cordial manner with which he had been received. At that hour he declined making a speech, but promised to meet his fellow citizens at the Court House on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock. Punctual to the hour, the Court House was crowded by a dense mass of humanity, all anxious to pay their respects to the Chief Magistrate of the Territory. After a short delay he was introduced as the first live Governor who had visited Walla Walla valley. His appearance on the stand was the signal for the wildest cheers. Quiet being at length restored, Gov. Moore proceeded to address his fellow citizens. His remarks were mainly designed to [illegible] the necessity of [illegible] between the different sections of the Territory [illegible] were identical and should they [illegible] Washington Territory [illegible] would soon emerge into a great and prosperous State. The Governor continued his remarks at some length and throughout was greeted with cheers."

Gen. Butler tells this good story of himself: While he was in command at New Orleans, a native Louisianian was observed one day by a wag reading a placard, "Buy your shirts at Moody's." The reader inquired what that meant. "Oh," said the joker, "that is one of the edicts of Butler. It is the safest way to comply with the order, for Butler is a perfect despot you know." So the Creole sought out Moody and bought a quarter dozen shirts. In due time a Paris paper arrived at New Orleans in which the facts were narrated as proving that Butler was both tyrannical and mean, using his power to compel citizens to buy their shirts of one Moody, who was undoubtedly his partner!

That the sphere of woman is being enlarged to a very marked degree is a question now beyond doubt, and in acceptation of the inevitable logic of events, it seems that a convention of Unitarian clergymen and laymen in Essex county, Mass., have taken a bold step forward, and admitted the fairer half of humanity to the priesthood on an equality with men. Women already act as Universalist, Baptist and Congregational divines, and we suppose will soon invade all the fields of intellectual labor heretofore occupied by the sterner, if not the wiser sex.

The Richmond Despatch gives a list of the seventy eight former Postmasters in Virginia against whom suits have been instituted in the United States Circuit Court for amounts claimed to be due the government. In most of the cases the property for which the Postmasters are held accountable was turned over to the Confederate Government. Attachments have been sued out and levies made on the property of the late Postmasters at Norfolk, Portsmouth, Richmond, Danville, Lynchburg, Charlottesville and Staunton.

Miles O'Reilly on Pendleton

Colonel Charles G. Halpine, the leader of the war Democrats in New York, gives the Pendleton men the benefit of the following pungent announcement in his paper, the New York Citizen:

The Democratic party is in an awkward position. Consistency is regarded as a necessity of politicians foolish as this is, and contrary to the facts as history shows it to be, and consistency with the stupidities of the last six years [illegible]. The organization [illegible] composed of [illegible] elements [illegible] consists of actual positive and inverted and intolerable peace men, disunionists, worshippers of chivalry, admirers of the South and flunkeys at its feet, men who would rather be kicked by a Southern man than kissed by a Northern woman. These cravens go boldly for their representative, their worthy exemplar George H. Pendleton, will have him or no one else, and actually despise and repudiate Governor Seymour as too much of a war man. They are resolute and vindictive. They have secured the party machinery to their favorite and have given him a long start in advance of all other candidates. But in numbers this body is still inferior to one equally determined and united, the large and influential class of War Democrats, men who have either been at the front, have borne arms in the good cause, or given it the assistance of their voices and their wishes, their hands or their hearts. These have affiliation with old Democratic doctrines, with the subordination of federal power in many respects to the right of self government, with the principle of independence and equality in the three co-ordinate branches of the national administration, with free trade, economy in expenses, and direct taxation, and above all with respect for the constitution.

Of the former class of slavish admirers of Southern greatness, the La Crosse Democrat, edited by Brick Pomeroy, is the mouthpiece; of the latter, the men who believe that the honest mechanic is as good as the lazy slave holder, the New York Citizen is the exponent. Now one side or the other of these conflicting elements has to be conciliated, as they are diametrically opposed; the only question remains as to which it shall be that is to dictate the policy and give a national candidate to the party. We say, distinctly, positively and unchangeably, as the law of the Medes and Persians, that never will those for whom we speak help directly or indirectly, by assertion or silence, by action or idleness, the election of the utter Copperhead and false hearted Northerner George H. Pendleton. Until water runs up hill, until trees grow with leaves under ground and roots above, until the moon gives heat and the sun loses its fire, until beasts become men and angels turn to devils, until ice shall burn and fire shall freeze, until everything that is impossible becomes possible, and not then, will War Democrats vote for the man who was false not only to his country but to his section, who was conspicuous only as a degrading example of possible Northern meanness, and who by his indirect support to their foes slew their sons and brothers. Rather a thousand times, would they see the loyal soldier and moderate Republican General Grant in the Presidential chair, a person who, if not agreeing with them in all their views, is much more clearly their representative than a Copperhead whose prudence kept him from being a traitor.

Democratic Prospects

From the New York Sun

A leading Democratic journal of Maine, the Portland Argus, makes the subjoined estimate of the result of the first ballot in the approaching National Convention in this city:

MCCLELLAN		PENDLETON		HANCOCK
California	5	Illinois	16	Alabama	8
Connecticut	6	Indiana	13	Arkansas	5
Delaware	3	Iowa	8	Louisiana	7
Maine	7	Kansas	3	Mississippi	7
Maryland	7	Kentucky	11	North Carolina	9
Massachusetts	12	Michigan	8	Pennsylvania	26
Nevada	3	Minnesota	4	Missouri	11
N. Hampshire	5	Nebraska	3	South Carolina	6
New York	33	Ohio	21	Texas	6
New Jersey	7	Wisconsin	8	Virginia	10
Oregon	3	Colorado	3	Florida	3
Rhode Island	4	West Virginia	5	Georgia	9
Tennessee	10
Vermont	5	Total	103	Total	107
Total	113

If General McClellan gets any votes on the first ballot he will not get any afterwards. He is not now seriously a candidate, and cannot be made such. But without regard to this question, every candid reader can see that apart from other important inaccuracies the table of the Argus does not do justice to the strength of Mr. Pendleton. It gives McClellan Tennessee and Delaware, when they are both tolerably sure to go for the Ohio statesman. It ignores the fact that the latter has a strong party in both Maine and Maryland. It gives ten of the former slave States to Hancock, when it is morally certain that they will all go for the peace and greenback candidate in preference to a man who slew their sons in the war, and who has no platform at all on the all absorbing question of finance and taxation.

In all probability, the contest in the National Convention will be between Governor Seymour and Mr. Pendleton, and as the case now stands the votes at the start will be divided as follows:

FOR PENDLETON

Alabama	8	Kansas	3	North Carolina	9
Arkansas	5	Kentucky	11	Ohio	21
Delaware	3	Louisiana	7	South Carolina	6
Florida	3	Michigan	8	Tennessee	10
Georgia	9	Minnesota	4	Texas	6
Illinois	16	Mississippi	7	Virginia	10
Indiana	13	Missouri	11	West Virginia	5
Iowa	8	Nebraska	3	Wisconsin	8
Total					191

FOR SEYMOUR

Connecticut	6	New Jersey	7	Rhode Island	4
Massachusetts	12	New York	33	Vermont	5
New Hampshire	5	Pennsylvania	26
Total					98

DOUBTFUL

California	5	Maryland	7	Oregon	3
Maine	7	Nevada	3

Total
For Pendleton	191
For Seymour	98
Doubtful	25
Total	317

As the two thirds rule will be enforced, and it will require 212 votes to select the candidate, it is apparent that, if our estimate is correct, there can be no nomination on the first ballot. But the States of Oregon and Nevada, which we have cast as doubtful, are more likely to vote for Mr. Pendleton than for his competitor. In Maine, the convention of one district has also declared for him, and in Maryland, not only are the predominant tendencies in his favor, but some of the most influential Democratic politicians are openly his advocates. As the matter appears to day, his nomination by the convention on the Fourth of July is more than probable, but no man can tell what may happen between now and the meeting of the convention. These are very rapid times, and the plans of the shrewdest politicians are often overset by causes which come upon them by surprise.

A practical commentary on the practicability of the Congressional plan of reconstruction is contained in the fact that in South Carolina the market value of the bonds of that State has more than doubled since the convention met to form the constitution which the people of the State have just ratified. Before the assemblage of that body the State bonds sold for twenty five cents on the dollar. Now they are worth fifty three cents.

The days of drugs are past!

as the [illegible]. It happened until recently that

When a woman was a little bit poorly,
He made a fuss,
Sent for a nurse,
And for Doctors whose medicines made him worse.

But now, thanks to a better acquaintance with ourselves and a less intimate acquaintance with blisterings, purgatives, emetics and sweatings, we prevent rather than cure, and pay proper attention to the laws of health and use

Which takes precedence of all other preparations of its kind. It is a specific for Headache, Dizziness, Flatulence, Heartburn, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Diabetes and General Debility. To thousands upon thousands it is now a well appreciated household friend. Sold all the world over. Redington & Co., Agents, San Francisco.

A STREET SCENE.—A gentleman was walking down Front street yesterday very finely dressed, wearing a Ventilated Straw Expert Hat, which suited his style of dress first rate. A man from the opposite side approached him asking, "Jimmy, where did you get your hat? I would give anything to get one just like it." [illegible] "I have bought my hats of them for [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] took me up to Marysville [illegible] I went to [illegible] Last steamer brought [illegible] during the hot weather and I was compelled to call [illegible] got this hat. I can [illegible] that it was hard to say which I liked best. I would advise you to call on him soon, for he said he had only a few dozen left." The gentleman immediately started for Meusdorffer's Hat Store.

Council Proceedings.—The Common Council of the City of Portland met at the Council Chamber on Wednesday evening, May 27, 1868.

The Board was called to order, and the roll was called by the clerk. Present—Councilmen Besser, Burch, Fechheimer, McCraken, Mulkey, Porter and Rosenblum—7. Absent: Councilmen Hallock and Rhodes—2.

His Honor the Mayor, being absent, on motion of Councilman Mulkey, Councilman McCraken took the Chair.

The minutes of May 13th were read by the clerk and adopted.

REMONSTRANCES, ETC.

A remonstrance was received and read from Geo. Hann and others, against the proposed change of grade on Second street between Montgomery and College streets, and was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A remonstrance from Wm. Sherlock and others against the proposed improvement of Oak street, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A remonstrance from Morgan and others, against the proposed improvement of Third street between Harrison and Lincoln streets, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Also, a remonstrance from Thomas Mountain and others against the proposed improvement of North Ninth street, and representing 800 feet, was read and referred as above.

A remonstrance from J. R. Thompson and others, against the proposed improvement of Jefferson street, representing 1,500 feet, was read referred to the same committee.

A remonstrance was received and read from W. Weatherford and others, against the proposed improvement of Fifth street, and referred as above.

PETITIONS, &C.

A petition from S. G. Reed and others, praying for a change of grade on Second street, between Montgomery and College streets, was received and read, and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Also, a petition from Wm. Deardorff and others, praying for a change of grade of North Tenth streets, by raising the same, was read and referred to the same committee as above.

A petition from Shubrick Norris and others, praying for a raise of grade on Sixth street, between Mill and Harrison streets, representing 1,200.

A petition from Stewart and Nelson, praying for an extension of time in which to complete the repairs on Front street, to August 1st, was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A petition from Samuel Miller and others praying for an extension of time to complete the improvement on South Front street, was read and referred as above.

A petition from M. J. Bird and others owning and representing 1,000 feet of property on Columbia street, praying that an ordinance be passed providing for the grading and improvement of said street, was read and referred as above.

A petition from J. T. Hunsacker, praying for leave to erect posts on the sidewalk in front of the What Cheer House on which to construct a plaza, was read and granted.

A petition from Parrish & Atkinson, praying for permission to remove a building through First and Taylor streets, was read and granted.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

A communication from M. Wintler, of the Vancouver Fire Department, asking for the loan of one of the idle hose carriages belonging to the Portland Fire Department, stating that the hose carriage of one of the Vancouver engines was broken down, was read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water, with instructions to confer with the company owning the carriage, and if in their judgment it was advisable to make the loan.

A communication and affidavit from E. Harbaugh, relative to his taxable property and indebtedness, and praying a reduction of his city assessment, was read and referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

A communication from H. L. Hoyt, relative to fees claimed to be due him as City Marshal, amounting to $6, was read and referred to Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the claim of J. J. Hoffman, for fees earned as City Recorder, amounting to $664 55, reported that the same was correct, and recommended that the said amount be paid, and reported an ordinance appropriating the sum of $700 out of the general fund, and transferring the amount to the Recorder's Court fund.

Mr. Fechheimer stated that he was a member of that committee and that he had not signed it, nor been consulted, and desired to know who did sign it, and that it was customary to consult a third member of a committee.

Messrs. Burch and McCracken stated the circumstances under which they had signed it, and after considerable time being consumed in remarks by Messrs Fechheimer, Mulkey, Burch, McCracken and others in which quite an amount of unpleasant feeling was exhibited, and several motions and votes were made and taken, the report was adopted by yeas 4, nays 3.

Councilman Fechheimer asked to have his protest entered against the adoption of the report, and the Chair ruled that his protest could not be entered unless in writing. Mr. Fechheimer still insisted on having his protest entered, and a vote was taken as to his right to have his oral protest entered, which was lost by nays 4, yeas 3.

STREETS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY.

The above Committee to whom was referred the remonstrance of the property holders on Salmon, Yamhill, Main, North Second and North Third streets against the [illegible] and improvements of said streets reported favorable to the several remonstrances named, and recommended that the work be discontinued. Report adopted.

The same committee reported favorable to the remonstrance referred to them against the proposed improvement of Stark, Morrison and North Eighth streets. Report adopted.

The same committee, to whom was referred the ordinance relating to awning and awning posts, reported a substitute, which was adopted.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Chief Engineer called the attention of the board to the fact that Engine Company No. 2, propose making repairs to their house, and that the house of Engine Company No. 1 needed repairs. The report was read and referred to the committee on Fire and Water, with instruction to have the necessary repairs made.

Communication from the Reviewers of North Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets was referred to the committee on Streets and Public Property.

ORDINANCES—FIRST AND SECOND READINGS.

An Ordinance appropriating $700, and transferring the same from the General Fund to the Recorder's Court Fund, read and laid over.

An ordinance reported as a substitute for the original ordinance relating to awnings and awning posts, was read and passed.

An ordinance declaring the probable costs of improving Madison street, was read and passed.

An ordinance appropriating $1,100 to defray the expense of repairing Madison street from Front to Sixth street, was read and passed.

An ordinance appropriating $12,000 out of the money to be raised for that purpose to defray the expenses of improving B street, from Fifth street to block 106, Couch's addition, was read and passed.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Fechheimer providing for and granting a railroad and bridge [illegible] and a tax of five mills, was read and laid on the table for further examination by members, if desired, and [illegible] printing.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Besser, creating a chain gang and providing for working city prisoners, was read and laid over.

The following resolution was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Common Council of the city of Portland does hereby nominate and appoint judges and clerks of election in each ward of the city, for the ensuing charter election, to be held on the third Monday (the 15th day) of June, 1868, as follows:

First Ward—Judges, G. H. Flanders, J. P. Tucker, T. Thompson, clerks, B. G. Whitehouse, Thos. Tilden.

Second Ward—Judges, Wm. Beck, J. M. Breck, S. Blumauer, clerks, P. C. Protzman, O. G. Garfield.

Third Ward—Judges, W. F. Wilcox, J. G. Swafford, J. H. Hayden, clerks, C. W. Parrish, W. L. Hill.

And that the Common Council does hereby appoint the places for holding the polls at said election as follows:

First Ward—No 2 Engine House.

Second Ward—Hook and Ladder Co.'s House.

Third Ward—Barker's building, Front street.

And that the Auditor be directed to give ten days notice by advertisement in the daily Herald that on the 3d Monday, the 15th day of June, 1868, a general city election will be held for the election of the following officers:

One Mayor to serve for one year.

In the first ward one Councilman for the term of three years.

In the second ward one Councilman for the term of three years.

In the third ward one Councilman for the term of three years.

And in said notice shall be specified the place for holding said election and the names of the Judges and Clerks for each ward.

A resolution offered by Councilman Porter, directing the City Auditor to give notice of the collection of assessments for the improvement of B, Washington and Madison streets, which was read and adopted.

A resolution, offered by Mr. Besser, directing the Marshal to dispose of the grass and to have the walks in the Plaza put in order, was read and adopted.

A resolution offered by Mr. Mulkey, directing the City Auditor to cancel two warrants, drawn each for $75, in favor of J. J. Hoffman on salary provided by ordinance, was read and adopted.

Wrecked.—Three men, neither of whose names we learned, were out yesterday afternoon in Johnny Collins' sail boat. The wind was rather high and squally and it [illegible] only occurred that, during a sudden gust, the boat [illegible] take in water over the gunwale. The feat of sailing under the circumstances, seemed so perilous that [illegible] crowds were gathered in various places along the [illegible] to watch the proceedings, and everybody [illegible] confident that there would be a wreck and a [illegible]. They were right, for about half past three, a gust struck the boat when near the middle of the river [illegible] to the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, and over she went. The three men in her clambered upon the gunwale and thus kept themselves partly out of water. Two or three small boats immediately put out from shore to bring the men off. The ferry boat, which had just started from this shore, bore down upon them and reached the wreck first. Her was heavy and the strong wind drifted her rapidly down the river, however, and she ran the small boat down—the men jumping aboard just in the nick of time. The ferry boat ran entirely over the sail boat and [illegible] it badly. The latter was subsequently [illegible] by a small [illegible] at the bluff bank on the east side, opposite the new saw mill. This is the third time the same boat has been capsized within two or three weeks—the first time with three men and the second time with a man and two women.

For San Francisco.—The steamer John L. Stephens will sail at 6 o'clock to-morrow evening for San Francisco.

What a Victorian Says of Portland.—Mr. Higgins, editor of the Victoria Colonist, while here a few days ago, wrote home to his paper a long and interesting letter on Oregon, stating his views very frankly and in terms of high praise. We copy the following extract relating more particularly to Portland.

Landing in this bustling and growing city, after an absence of nearly four years, I am struck with the extent and permanent character of the improvements that have taken place during that interval and the evidences that greet the eyes on every side of the energy, thrift and enterprise of the people of the young Commonwealth of which Portland is the commercial capital. Four years ago I found Portland in the rank behind Victoria in most respects—[illegible] population small and [illegible], her public buildings few in number and [illegible] appearance, her streets unpaved and dirty, her commerce limited, and her manufactories languishing. To-day I find her a thriving business centre, with handsome public buildings and elegant churches [illegible] streets—the busy hum of industry [illegible] in every quarter, and her arms about [illegible] gaunt to enfold with bricks and mortar the green spots which still dot her suburbs. Portland keeps pace only with the prosperity of the State, which is rapidly growing rich and great, through the active development of the splendid natural resources that abound, and the hearty co-operation in every beneficial measure by the Government of the State. * * * * *

The exports of grain and flour products of Oregon to California and elsewhere are immense. All day long I hear the shrill [illegible] of steam whistles, and see the light-draught stern wheelers, laden to the guards with produce, darting swiftly up and down the Willamette. Ocean steamers and sail vessels arrive at and leave here every few days for California, bringing cargoes of general merchandise and returning filled with the products of the State. Thirty thousand tons of flour, grain, bacon, hams, fish, wool, fruit, etc., have been shipped hence since the opening of the river three months ago. At one time it was estimated that 27,000 tons of produce lay in store at Portland awaiting shipment. * * *

The Fire Department is a credit to Portland. Like ours the service is voluntary. There was a slight alarm the other day, when the firemen showed great promptitude. Three of the engines are "steamers," similar to the one just ordered for the Tigers of Victoria. When the alarm was sounded, a match was applied to the kindling wood, which is always ready laid under the boiler, and before the machine had been dragged a block, steam was up and the engine prepared for service.

Fenian Guard's Target Excursion.—In consequence of the unfavorable weather, the Fenian Guard concluded yesterday to postpone their annual Target Excursion and picnic till Saturday the 30th. On that day, if the weather be suitable, the excursion will take place. The place selected for the picnic is Pine Grove, near Milwaukie. The steamer Gert will take passengers from foot of Morrison street, at the hours of nine o'clock, half past ten A. M. and twelve, noon. Tickets, one dollar, to be obtained of the Committee—Capt. Cahalin, Lt. Barry and G. J. Fitzgerald. The excursion will be accompanied by a full band of music.

Oregon Cattle for Puget Sound.—The Transcript mentions the arrival at Olympia, recently, of several droves of Oregon work and beef cattle for use down the Sound—mostly at the milling camps. It says work oxen are scarce and are bringing good prices all over the Sound country. The Transcript also mentions the shipment from Olympia to Victoria of a drove of 900 fat Oregon sheep. Trade of this kind seems to be getting good in that direction. All right. We have plenty more of the same sort left, and to spare.

Railroad Matters up the Valley.—Mr. Mitchell returned Tuesday evening from a tour through the middle valley counties where he has been addressing the people on the subject of railroads, and particularly in favor of the east side road. He represents that the people are manifesting a lively interest in the success of the road and that large subscriptions of stock and donations will be easily obtained. Mr. Chenoweth of Corvallis obtained in one day over $6,000 subscribed on condition that the road should cross at that place.

Oregon Products.—The following were the arrivals per steamer, yesterday: Per steamer Senator, 3 boxes eggs, 10 hlf bbls lard, 3,375 qr sks flour, 1 bale furs, 1 bale woolen goods and 2 rolls leather.

Per Wenat, 18 gunnies bacon, 1 bbl and 1 box eggs and 9 hlf bbls cider.

Per Alert, 1,060 gunnies wheat, 720 qr sks wheat, 102 sks feed, 15 gunnies bacon, 50 sks oats, 15 cases and 4 hlf bbls lard, and 2,000 feet oak lumber.

"Seasonable Goods."—Our friend Chatfield of the Oregon Seed Store, is something of a wag and a practical joker. Passing his store yesterday, we noticed a very skookum umbrella and a pair of skates exhibited conspicuously before his door, labelled "Seasonable Goods"—a palpable hit at the weather. If this cold snap continues long, the skates will probably prove saleable goods.

Good Templar's Celebration.—We learn that the Good Templars of East Portland have resolved to have a celebration on the 4th of July, and that they have invited the lodges of this city, Vancouver, Milwaukie and Oregon City, to participate with them. It is said that several, if not all, the lodges will accept the invitation. If so the celebration will be an affair of considerable magnitude.

A New Postal Agent.—The Olympia Transcript says that a movement is on foot to divide the Postal District comprising Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and to get Washington Territory alone set off into an independent district. It complains that the Territory has fewer and poorer mail facilities than any section of the United States according to population.

How Things Get Mixed.—A Montana exchange announces that a company has been organized at San Francisco to build a railroad from that point to Walla Walla via Portland. How these railroad schemes are magnified as distance lends enchantment to the view. Our Montana brother has got three or four distinct enterprises (talked of) mixed into one.

Imprisoned.—The three Indians, Charley, Bill and Tom, charged with assaulting and stabbing Indian Jim, had an examination before the Recorder yesterday. Charley was discharged. Tom was sent to jail for twenty days and Bill for five days.

Lecture this Evening.—Rev. Father Buchard will lecture at the Catholic church this evening, for the benefit of the Catholic Library Association. Subject—"Trials and triumphs of the Church." Tickets of admission, one dollar.

Speaking at Oregon City.—Mr. W. D. Hare, of Washington county, who is at work very energetically in the Union cause, will speak at Oregon City next Saturday evening. It is expected that there will be a rousing meeting.

Sale of Furniture.—Mr. A. B. Richardson will sell at auction to-day, at the residence of Mr. J. Marshall, Salmon street, between Fourth and Fifth, a large lot of parlor and bed room furniture. Sale at 10 o'clock A. M.

Speaking To-night.—Hon. J. H. Mitchell will address the people this evening on political topics, at the Court House. Turn out and hear him.

Every Union Man should go to the Court House this evening and hear Mr. Mitchell comb down the Copperocracy.

Message.—There is a message at the telegraph office for J. G. Murray.

Notice.—The Portland Independent Club held their meeting last night in the First Ward, with thirty members present, and elected one standing committee, one secretary and three financial committees. The members are respectfully solicited to attend a meeting next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Tremont Exchange, No. 23, Front street.

Furniture Sale.—Attention is called to the furniture sale to be held to-day by A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, at the residence of J. Marshall, Esq., on Salmon street, between Fourth and Fifth. Those in want of anything in that line, will, without doubt, find it to their advantage to attend.

The Broadway Styles of Boys' Hats received per last steamer, and for sale by J. A. Daly, 103 Front street.

To those in want of Photographs, we would say that now is a first rate time to visit Buchtel's Gallery, where the latest and finest styles may be had.—J. H. Montgomery, operator.

Dutcher's Lightning Fly-Killer.—THAT PEST OF SUMMER, huge black swarms of flies can be got rid of cheaply and easily by the use of the above popular article, which has an enormous sale at the East, and is now for sale by dealers everywhere.

A THRILLING INCIDENT

In the missionary life of Mrs. Ingalls in Burmah, is well told in the Baptist Messenger, relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Buddhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels, which none but the high priest dare touch, as all even overturned, all on one of their gods to rest, all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "fool medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.

Rev. I. F. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes: "We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. I. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes: "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." mol lawlm

I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it not only makes the plate double as strong and cleaner than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

My Little Wife.

The following little love poem appeared in a recent number of Blackwood's Magazine. It was written by David Wingate, who had been working as a collier since he was nine years of age.

My little wife often went up the church hill
  Sweet little, dear little, neat little Jane
Walked slowly and I only stealthily until
  The afternoon bell had died call over the plain;
    And nothing seemed sweeter
    To me than to meet her
And tell her what would it [illegible] be
    My heart the while glowing,
That all her affections were centered in me.

My little wife once, 'tis strange but 'tis true,
  Sweet little, dear little, love troubled Jane
So deeply absorbed in her day dreams grew
  The bell chimed and ceased though she heard not the strain
    And I walking near her,
    (May I ne'er cheer her
Who thinks all such wandering of sin void and free
    Strove hard to persuade her
    That He who had made her
Had destined her heart love for no one but me.

My little wife—well, perhaps this was wrong—
  Sweet little, dear little, warm hearted Jane
Sat on the hill-side till her shadow grew long
  Nor tired of the preacher that thus could detain
    I argued so neatly,
    And proved so completely
That none but poor Andrew her husband could be—
    She smiled when I blessed her,
    And blushed when I kissed her,
And owned that she loved and would wed none but me.

MACAULAY'S ESSAYS.—Macaulay's longest essay, and perhaps the most elaborate, is the "Bacon." The power of writing has now come to full maturity with him, nay, but we are not sure but that the fullness is excessive and runs over, we are not sure but that the art has run away with the artist. Has anybody not on business ever read this essay without more than one of those intercalatory relaxations known as skips? The facts in Bacon's life are few, and Macaulay tells us nothing new in regard to them. Still the river of words flows on copiously, endlessly. This is discussed and that is discussed, and not a stitch is dropped, and the whole subject is most exhaustively treated. And sure enough it is exhaustively treated, the teeth of wolf never stripped a bone more exhaustively clean. Let the reader in search of proof turn only to the discussion of the question of philosophy that terminates the essay, and which really a page or two might have contained, and he will find that it takes about twice the space of the essay he is now reading. This excessive copiousness is decidedly a blot, then. Still, the living, leafy, wide stretching boughs into which the writer's art transforms the mere dead and fragmentary, yellow twigs of truth are wonderful, and we are kept in continual admiration of the constant [illegible] writing, the constant interesting [illegible], the constant luminous good sense, and the constant appearance of research. The "Samuel Johnson" (1831) is one of Macaulay's most [illegible] and characteristic essays, and certainly perhaps there is no more vivid, no more graphic, no more racy piece of writing in the language. The style is terse, clear, keen, while the [illegible] and a rapid continuance of utterance that hurry us triumphantly along with the stream of expression. Still we cannot help seeing that it is a tale dressed up, that effect is aimed at, and that effect alone is aimed at. The truth of the matter is evidently not by any means of vital importance to the writer, not that he designedly wishes to neglect truth, but just because his object has no present relation with truth. In fact, the aim here is not instruction at all; there is no thought of a lesson. How different the Johnson of Carlyle! There is not the squalid, uncouth giant in dirty linen, gobbling and slabbering, with straining eyeballs, over his victuals, that we see. No; there is the humble, gray heart, the strong sense, the understanding solid, weighty as granite, or, again, it is the great, doubt-riven soul that would have peace in God and a world of far other interests than the petty [illegible] of time.—J. H. Sterling.

HOW GARRICK AND JOHNSON WENT TO LONDON.—Long after they looked back to this pleasant adventure, and often talked over its incidents. Johnson, whose little weakness was a perpetual disparagement that "a mere player" should have been more successful in the world than a great moralist, was not sorry to hint at their little shifts on this occasion. Perhaps, too, with the complacency of the arrogant Bounderby, at the notion of being born in a ditch. In a large company the quick ear of Garrick would hear the Doctor fixing a date by a something beginning: "That was the year when I came to London with twopence-halfpenny in my pocket." Not without surprise at such a statement, Garrick would repeat, "With twopence-halfpenny in your pocket?" There was an opportunity here for a wholesome correction. "Why yes," roars the Doctor, "with twopence halfpenny; and thou, Davy, with three-halfpence in thine!" Garrick's good humor could make him [illegible] so [illegible] able a fiction without remonstrance; though in truth it was more probable that the scantier provision should have been on the side of Johnson, whose shifts and privations were presently to begin. Neither David's parents nor his kind patron, Walmesley, would have sent him away in such beggarly condition. They made their journey, however, economically. "We rode and tied," said Mr. Garrick, later, alluding to a thrifty mode, by which two people could contrive to have the benefit of one horse for their traveling. But, as Boswell says, this [illegible] mere complacent embellishment; otherwise it would be amusing to call up the picture of the bright young fellow cantering on his stage, halting and tying his beast to the nearest tree, and then footing on foot, while behind came struggling the uncouth figure with the seamed neck, the heavy shoulders working, the careless dress, until the welcome beast was in sight. Thus they got on to London, the one to enter on his weary course as a bookseller's hack. They stayed together in a town a short time, presently found their slender stock of money all but exhausted, and the the moment were sorely pressed. In this extremity young Garrick recollected a bookseller named Wilcox, of whom he knew a very little, and both going to him, and telling their story simply and naturally, he was induced to advance them five [illegible] on their joint note, which in a very short time was punctually took up and satisfied. When Johnson told the bookseller his intention was to get his bread by writing, the other eyed his burly figure and said, "he had better get a porter's knot."—Life of Garrick.

GENERAL GRANT.—The New York Sun, a neutral paper, thus answers some stupid calumnies about our great chieftain. The testimony of the Hon. W. E. Dodge will not be questioned by the most earnest temperance man, and no man knows General Grant's history more intimately than Mr Dana:

General Grant has been accused of intemperance. The Copperheads fight him with talk about this alleged bad habit, just as the rebels fought him with powder and ball in the war; but the case is set all right in a little speech which the Hon. W. E. Dodge made on Thursday evening. Mr. Dodge said that he had just been in Washington, and had had a long interview with General Grant, and, continued he, "I left him with the conviction that neither we nor the friends of temperance have any cause for anxiety in this respect." Mr. Dodge is President of the National Temperance Association, and no one can be more hostile to everything approaching intemperate habits in a public man. The truth is that the practice of General Grant is total abstinence. In camp he—almost alone, among the prominent men of the army—never tolerated any liquor or wine either at his table or about his tent. Fatiguing marches and the excitement and exhaustion of battles did not make him break over his rule, not to touch anything alcoholic. Again and again we have seen wine offered him at public and private dinners, only to be steadily refused. We are assured that now in the time of peace and in the society of Washington, he still maintains the same glory. The people will never believe that General Grant is a drunkard, and if, from not personally knowing Grant, they are not sure of the facts they will answer as President Lincoln did, "Let me know what kind of whisky Grant drinks, and I will send a barrel to every one of our Generals."

Mr. Morgan, in his work on the American beaver, says that in excavating the canals for the purpose of transporting to its habitation the winter supply of "wood cuttings" on which it subsists changes of level are ingeniously remedied by locks. These canals average three feet in width and in depth, and are frequently six hundred feet in length, and the construction of them with locks, pre supposes a very high degree of foresight and intelligence. Indeed, Mr Morgan, does not hesitate to claim for the beaver "a thinking and reasoning, and perhaps an immortal principle." It is said that when the young beaver attain maturity they are sent out from the lodge; if they fail to mate they are allowed to return to the lodge, and remain till the ensuing summer, but as a mark of parental disapprobation, they are put to hard labor in repairing the dam. They are then sent away again, if they fail a second time to mate, they are not permitted to return, but become henceforth "out cast beavers." What a lesson for old bachelors!

The Boston Post says, "Impeachment unpeached" by the Connecticut election. Just the contrary—non-impeacher Dixon in the Senate is effectually rebuked, and will lose his office.—Boston Transcript.

A Senatorial Planet

Mr. Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Washington, thus describes a habit of the President's son in law, Senator Patterson. Any one who has been much about the Capitol will recognize the sketch as drawn to the life.

Walking up Pennsylvania Avenue one morning in good time to get into the Court of Impeachment, with a veteran Washington correspondent, we overtook two heavy, red faced gentlemen, moving leisurely the same way. One of them was a Senator of the United States from a South western State and the other, no doubt, a Conservative patriot of the high toned order, with a large capacity for untaxed whisky. As we neared the Senator and his friend we heard the former say, "Now, you had better go on to the Capitol, and I have to go around here to see a friend of mine." "Then," said my companion, the reporter, "that means that the Senator wishes to shake off his friend and go and have a big early drink at Whitney's, before the organization of the Senate." He continued, "Now if we walk up through the Capitol and take a position on the eastern steps we will be enabled to see the Senator emerge from behind the Senate wing, on the way to comfort the Senatorial stomach. Let us go and look for him, he will be along in about three minutes after we reach the steps." "What," I inquired, "can you calculate him like a planet?" The response was that he moved to Whitney's, and to his other results, swinging around the circle, with the certainty of the heavenly bodies. We turned to the East Front, and paused in the immediate vicinity of the marble Columbus, who stands ready to cast the globe in his right hand at the sitting statue of Washington in the Capitol. Between the corner of the Senate wing and Whitney's was the Avenue and a cross street. The transit of the Senator was calculated to take place in three minutes from the time of our arrival.

We waited serenely for the event, the reporter pronouncing the passage of the Senator to Whitney's to be as certain as the realization of any astronomical phenomenon duly calculated. Sure enough, just at the right moment, the grave Senator, solemn with the cares of State, and bowed with a deep sense of his responsibilities, hove in sight, and with heavy steps and slow his gold-headed cane shining in the sun, moved to Whitney's. We saw his dignified form a moment outlined in the doorway; and as he disappeared we retired, reflecting upon the steady habits of great men. Whatever may be said of the inconsistencies of other Senators, it cannot be alleged that this one swerves from the even tenor of his way. I saw him soon after in his seat in the Senate chamber, looking as if he understood himself to be a doer of good works.

THE UNIVERSAL CAUSE.—Some years ago there was a land-slide in Ireland, which swept away a few small farms and submerged a score or two of acres, turning the land into bog. For years after that event every dilapidated Irish gentleman was ruined by the "land slide." The Independent Dispatch (Lord help the adjective!) has found out that the cause of the "depression in New England," "factories closing, shipyards idle, mechanics out of work," are "all produced by the ruinous policy of converting the Southern States into negro colonies." What was the cause of the "depression in New England" in 1837, '45, '57, and perhaps half a dozen times in our recollection? New England has her times of "depression," as do all manufacturing and commercial districts, and from which purely agricultural regions are not wholly exempt. "Factories closing, ship-yards idle, mechanics out of work," are periodical occurrences in New England—but she soon recovers and goes to work again, it don't appear to hurt her much. Perhaps the cause of the great earthquake and volcanic eruptions in the Sandwich Islands was the "ruinous policy of converting the Southern States into negro colonies." Who knows?—Elevator.

The New York Sun solemnly announces that if Chase should be nominated for President by the Copperheads they can count on the support of William Cullen Bryant, George Opdyke, Jackson S. Schultz, Isaac Sherman, Calvin T. Hurlburt, Ward Hunt, Parke Goodwin, and John K. Porter—all well known New York politicians. The Chicago Evening Post, however, after a careful compilation of the returns of the Presidential election in 1864, comes to the deliberate conclusion that this would be insufficient to elect.

Before the close of the year a railroad will be opened from Athens to its ancient port, the Piraeus.

The Pendletonians have an eye on Governor English of Connecticut for Vice President.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

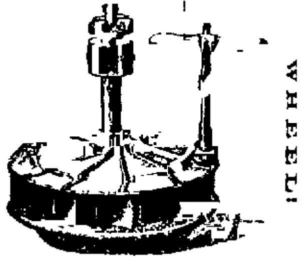
LEFFEL'S

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER



WHEEL!

THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours, DODGE & MUNN."

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement of our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
